In addition to offering Chinese courses to teach Chinese knowledge and improve students' Chinese level, this experience course also includes a series of "contemporary China" courses. It interprets contemporary China from the perspectives of Shanghai's economy, Internet and scientific and technological achievements, and shows the contemporary Chinese style to overseas students as the epitome of modern smart city.

Our program adopts a comprehensive teaching mode. This kind of mode focus on the functions, situations, grammars and structures of the language, and the combination of the four. In this mode, the course is very practical and effective, which can cultivate learner's Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing skills in a short period of time. As the center of the learner, the teacher is the group leader to guide the students to learn. Conscious learning and unconscious natural learning are equally emphasized in this mode. This mode can also pay attention to the grammar rules and the inertia formed by imitation and practice.
